

September 4, 2009

Dear Parents/Guardians:

Morton Ranch High School will follow the KISD directive and show President Obama's speech on Friday, September 11, 2009 during Social Studies classes. This prevents the speech from being on a planned test day in any of our Social Studies courses. It will be shown the second half of the period and there will not be an assignment given related to the topic.

Students who wish to opt out of the presentation will be allowed to go to an alternate location for a separate learning activity. Students under the age of 18 who wish to opt out must have a note from their parent/guardian sent to the Social Studies teacher. Parents/guardians are asked to please send the note with the student on Tuesday, September, 8, 2009 so that the school will know how many students to plan for in the alternate location. Students who are 18 may write their own note and notify their teacher themselves.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Sincerely,

Mark Grisdale, Principal
